Itinerary

The CMS invites your company/organization to exhibit virtually at the Canadian Mathematical Society Winter Meeting. The goal of the Canadian Mathematical Society is to promote the advancement, discovery, learning and application of mathematics. The CMS organizes two Mathematics conferences per year, in June and December. Periodically the CMS also organizes the Canadian Mathematics Education Forum and joint meetings with other Societies.

CMS MEETINGS

Meetings of the CMS bring together some of the most domestically and internationally respected researchers and mathematicians. The program for the 2020 CMS Winter Meeting will include more than 20 scientific sessions and 7 plenary, prize and public lectures. The conference provides an excellent opportunity to present mathematically oriented products and services, as well as networking with the mathematical community.

About Whova

Whova has been known widely as the event app for Expos and Tradeshows. Its integrating software can be used on mobile devices and from your personal computer and can be streamed on various locations. Whova is leading virtual platforms with its 10x event engagements, happy attendees who are receiving increased retention, and many more options for sponsors and exhibitors to create revenue. At CMS we are delighted and pleased to partner up with this software to help you reach your full potential.

Whova boosts engagement effortlessly by utilizing elements that aid attendees to get involved in the meeting. Some of the ways Whova does this is by using push notifications through emails which keep our attendees updated and easily engaged in the latest meeting news. Community Boards are available so we can create meet-ups, Q& A, and discussions with the attendees. Mobile Surveys where sponsors and exhibitors can be informed how their ROI, attendee engagement, and target marketing did at the meeting. Plus, Whova has gamification which makes our meeting fun and entertaining for our attendees.

Whova creates a networking system like no other with award-winning conference app to create a one of a kind experience. SmartProfiles allows our attendees to meet ahead of our meeting in one-on-one chatting, group chatting, and attendee matchmaking.

We are pleased with Whova's top-notch customer support and access to the meeting app from either a personal computer or phone. Let's help you reconnect with other like-minded individuals in this virtual platform as you create more ROI and provide an ultimate experience for attendees!
