CLAUS KOESTLER, St. Lawrence University
Noncommutative independence and characters of the infinite symmetric group

Thoma's theorem identifies the extremal characters of the infinite symmetric group. We give an alternative proof of this characterization result based on noncommutative independence as it emerges from exchangeability through noncommutative de Finetti theorems.

This is joint work with Rolf Gohm.