
NICOLAE STRUNGARU, Grant MacEwan University

Math for the young

In this talk I will review some opportunities of interacting with secondary and high school students; some of the challenges one faces when presenting math to them and some nice problems and solutions I encountered.