
GOONG CHEN, Mathematics Department, Texas A&M University Animal Motions and Their Fourier Decomposition

in this talk, we first compute the fundamental modes of motion of certain animals. We then computationally analyze their motion by performing Fourier transforms on their trajectory. Their frequencies show strong consistency with the computed frequencies of the fundamental modes of motion. Concrete examples will be illustrated.