
GORDANA TODOROV, Northeastern University

Infinite friezes of affine type D

We study infinite friezes arising from cluster categories of affine type D and determine the growth coefficients for these friezes. We prove that for each affine type D, the friezes given by the tubes all have the same growth behavior.