
NATHAN HAYDON, University of Waterloo
Compositional First-Order Logic

We discuss a recent string-diagrammatic calculus that is complete for first-order logic. The calculus achieves its results by combining cartesian and linear bicategories. We present the development of the calculus, motivate the inference rules, and suggest future directions.