

TONY WARE, University of Calgary, Calgary, Alberta
Numerical explorations of swing options

We describe some partial differential equation models for swing option pricing, and discuss the issue of calibrating those models to the relevant markets. We also describe a finite element scheme for solving the equations and illustrate the characteristics of these options by means of a set of numerical explorations.