
LARRY BATES, University of Calgary, Calgary, AB

No monodromy in the champagne bottle

It is a curiosity that the three dimensional champagne bottle problem contains no monodromy, despite the fact that it is composed of two-dimensional problems that all contain monodromy. This talk will explain 'where the monodromy went'.