
DOUGLAS HENRICH, Iroquois Ridge High School
Mathematical Ethics: Values, Valences and Virtues

In this paper I will review the themes of: gender differentiation and engagement in mathematics, ethics and separated values within mathematics, and proven teaching strategies that promote mathematical learning engagement. These themes will be unified by anecdotal success strategies that show how emphasis on the connected values of mathematics engages both male and female students.