PAUL MEZO, Carleton
A method for computing A-packets for real groups

A-packets are sets of representations which help describe the discrete spectrum of automorphic representations. We will present a method for computing A-packets for real symplectic and orthogonal groups following the definition given by Arthur.