

---

KEVIN CHURCH, McGill

Spectral theory for impulsive delay differential equations

I will present some recent work on spectral theory for impulsive functional differential equations, with an emphasis on systems with discrete delays. For systems with periodic structure, this includes the associated Floquet theory. I will conclude with some applications to stability and bifurcation in mathematical models from ecology and infectious diseases.