
FRANK FU, Dalhousie University

Programming quantum circuits with Proto-Quipper

Proto-Quipper is a family of quantum programming languages that formalizes various aspects of Quipper. In this talk, I will demonstrate a prototype of Proto-Quipper that supports linear types, dependent types, circuit boxing and dynamic lifting. I will show how these features are used in programming quantum circuits.