
SUN-KAI LEUNG, Université de Montréal

Central limit theorems for arithmetic functions in short intervals

The distribution of arithmetic functions is a central topic in analytic number theory. In this talk, we discuss various central limit theorems for arithmetic functions in short intervals, in which the Fourier duality lies at the heart of the matter.