EHSAN CHINIFOROOSHAN, Concordia University, Montreal, Quebec, Canada

When cops and robbers do not move on the same graph

We consider the game in which cops can move along the edges of a graph G and the robber can move along the edges of another graph H such that $V(G) = V(H)$. We give motivations for considering this new game and partial results.