EIGENIU SPINU, University of Alberta
Disjointly homogeneous Banach lattices

A Banach lattice is said to be disjointly homogeneous if every two disjoint seminormalized sequences have subsequences which are equivalent. We will discuss the geometry of such lattices and consider operator ideals on them.