

---

MARKO OREL, University of Primorska
Preserver Problems and Graph Theory

A map that preserves a binary relation can be interpreted as a graph homomorphism. In this talk I will present few techniques related to graph theory that can be used to solve some preserver problems. The main emphasis will be on adjacency preservers on various types of matrices over a finite field.