
AKOS MAGYAR, University of Georgia
Distance graphs in sets of positive density

A distance graph is a graph with vertices in a Euclidean space. Two graphs are called isometric if there is a one to one correspondence between their vertices which keeps the length of the corresponding edges. We study distance graphs, as well as their dilates, that can be embedded into sets of positive density of Euclidean spaces or the integer lattice.