GORDON NAYLOR, Maskwacis Education Schools Commission
Indigenous Students and High School Mathematics

Tansi kahkiyaw, kitatamiskatinawaw (Hello everyone, I greet you all).

I am a proud member of the Muskoday First Nation and have been a math teacher in reserve schools for the past 8 years. I currently teach in Neyaskweyahk (Ermineskin Cree Nation, in Maskwacis, Alberta). I look to share some of my experiences and find out how to improve my practice to help give my students the best chance at accomplishing their dreams.

This presentation will look at historical and contemporary issues affecting Indigenous People's and western education, particularly issues surrounding mathematics education.
