
CHRISTIAN BINGANE, Polytechnique Montreal

Maximal perimeter of a convex small polygon

A small polygon is a polygon of unit diameter. Finding the maximal perimeter of a convex small polygon with a given number of sides is an open problem when the number of sides is a power of two. This presentation discusses recent advances in this problem.