RAM MURTY, Queen's University

The large sieve revisited

The large sieve inequality can be viewed as an inequality involving characters of the additive profinite (Prufer) group $\widehat{\mathbb{Z}}$. We will derive a general inequality for arbitrary profinite groups from which the classical large sieve can be deduced as a special case.