

LUIS SECO, University of Toronto

A historical perspective of mathematics in the financial industry

This talk will overview the past history and current situation of the use of mathematics in the financial industry.