
XIANFU WANG, University of British Columbia: Okanagan

The extremal characterization of reflexive spaces

Assume that a Banach space has a Fréchet differentiable and locally uniformly convex norm. We show that the reflexive property of the Banach space is not only sufficient but also a necessary condition for the fulfillment of the proximal extremal principle in non-smooth analysis.