
CLAUDE TARDIF, Royal Military College of Canada
Bounding chromatic numbers by solving linear equations

We present systems of linear equations associated to a graph, with the property that if such a system is consistent, then the chromatic number of the graph is at least some given bound. We show how such systems are connected to the subject of topological bounds on the chromatic number of a graph.

This is joint work with Gord Simons and David Wehlau.