
SHAWN DESAULNIERS, University of Alberta

Is Recruitment Enough?

Recruitment and retention of Indigenous students within STEM is now a priority for many post-secondary institutions across Canada. While many universities now employ a specialized Indigenous recruiter, most lack a retention counterpart. In this presentation we will discuss ways the mathematical community can work together to better support Indigenous students admitted into STEM programs.