MARIIA SOBCHUK, University of Waterloo
Quantum independence and chromatic numbers

The talk will focus on the relations between the quantum independence number and the quantum chromatic number, and their classical counterparts. We will present our graph theoretic insight into the smallest known graphs where the quantum and classical parameters take different values. We will use this reasoning to generalize these examples.