BERNARDO GALVAO-SOUSA, University of Toronto
Open ended modelling problems

In a second year Modelling with Differential and Difference Equations, I introduced open ended modelling problems. Taking advantage of the online setting where students have access to computer algebra systems, students are allowed to make use of them to approximate and study differential and difference equations to analyze them. In my talk, I'll show some of the results.