

---

RICHELLE MARYNOWSKI, University of Lethbridge

Is there a difference between teaching Calculus and learning calculus?

Teaching Calculus or learning calculus...different perspectives on the focus. Shifting the perspective from what is being taught to what is being learned opens up space for focusing on what is important in the teaching, learning, and assessment of calculus and potentially in other areas of mathematics.