BOTING YANG, University of Regina
Constrained Graph Searching on Trees

In this talk, we consider edge search and fast search with constraints on vertices. These two graph search models were introduced by Megiddo et al. (1988) and Dyer et al. (2008), respectively. We give polynomial time algorithms for computing the minimum number of searchers to capture robber on trees under different constraints.