
KYNE SANTOS, Toronto Metropolitan University

Math In Drag

I will share my experiences engaging underrepresented groups by doing math outreach on social media as a drag queen. In particular, I'll share my personal journey as a math student with a diverse range of interests and intersectional identities, and what I see as the commonalities between math and gender identity.